

OVER 4200 COPIES of the Courier are distributed daily.
This means over 16,000 daily readers.

THE BRISTOL COURIER

DAILY WEATHER REPORT
Showers and thundershowers today and tonight. Little change in temperature.

VOL. XXXVII—NO. 307

BRISTOL, PA., MONDAY EVENING, JUNE 7, 1943

Price: 2c a Copy; 10c a Week

REPORTS OF READINESS FOR ALLIED INVASION OF EUROPE AGAIN FLOOD LONDON; BELIEVE ATTACK AT HAND

London Standard Reports "Vast Machinery of Invasion Already Is In Operation"—Conservative Post Reports "Whole Field Clear" for Invasion

By International News Service
LONDON, June 7.—Reports that everything now is in readiness for Allied invasion of Europe again flooded London today, with all sections of the British press in agreement that the day for attack virtually is at hand.

The London Evening Standard reported that "the vast machinery (of invasion) already is in operation, while the conservative Yorkshire post reported the "whole field clear" for invasion.

Axis broadcasts told of sweeping preparations in North Africa, including concentration of barges and other light invasion craft in all Tunisian ports and the Algerian harbors of Bone and Philippeville. Germany, meanwhile, was reported demanding active support of the Italian Navy in meeting the imminently expected invasion, which British sources predicted would be directed by Gen. George C. Marshall.

HULMEVILLE

Mrs. Gladys Litts, of Fox Chase, has been visiting her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Burns.

Three children were baptised at last evening's service in Neshaminy Methodist Church, by the Rev. Adolph Glen Choud. They included: Carol Ann McCarthy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McCarthy, of Hulmeville; Marlon Elizabeth McCarthy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McCarthy, of Croydon; and Robert Frank Weller. The guest soloist was Arthur McCarthy, he being accompanied at the piano by his wife.

Plans are being made for a Daily Vacation Bible School at Neshaminy Methodist Church.

CROYDON

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dolde spent Thursday in Philadelphia, visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Fox have been entertaining Mr. Fox's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Fox, Philadelphia.

EDGELY

Mrs. Edward R. Sityler left on Friday for St. Paul, Minn., to be with her husband, of the U. S. Navy, who is attending sessions at the University of Minnesota.

Mrs. John Doster is a patient in Abington Hospital.

GRADUATE HONORED

Miss Florence Antonelli, Jefferson avenue, a member of the graduating class of Bristol high school, was given a party Tuesday evening following commencement exercises. The affair was given by her mother, Mrs. Anna Antonelli. A buffet lunch was served to 50. The members of the class, also other guests from Bristol, Langhorne, Trenton and Jersey City, were present.

W. C. T. U. PICNIC

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will conduct a picnic tomorrow afternoon, starting at 4:30 at the Keene Home, Radcliffe street. The members will be guests of Miss Mary J. Haines.

LOCAL WEATHER OBSERVATIONS

FOR 24 HOUR PERIOD ENDING 8 A. M.
AT ROHM & HAAS WEATHER OBSERVATORY
BRISTOL, PA.

Temperature Readings
Maximum 86 F
Minimum 64 F
Range 22 F

Hourly Temperatures
8 a. m. yesterday	66
9	70
10	72
11	75
12 noon	77
1 p. m.	80
2	82
3	83
4	84
5	86
6	85
7	80
8	75
9	71
10	68
11	67
12 midnight	66
1 a. m. today	65
2	65
3	64
4	64
5	64
6	64
7	65
8	67

P. C. Relative Humidity 85
Precipitation (inches) 0

TIDES AT BRISTOL

High water 6:55 a. m., 7:22 p. m.
Low water 1:49 a. m., 2:21 p. m.

Edward Bakelaar, Aged 6, Has A Birthday Party

Edward Bakelaar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marinus Bakelaar, Farragut avenue, was six years old on Wednesday and in the evening was host to a group of little friends. The children played games and refreshments were served. The table was decorated in blue and white. Favors were lolly-pops and small blue baskets of candy. Edward received many gifts.

Those present: Richard Rogers, John Rogers, Keller Fox, Jr., Valerie Gilardi, Rodman Gilardi, James Boyle, John Boyle, Judy Fox, Jane Natale, Norman and Robert Bakelaar, Bristol; Edward and Gertrude DeKoyler, Edgely.

HERE AND THERE IN BUCKS COUNTY TOWNS

Activities of Interest To All In The Various Communities
GLEANED BY SCRIBES

The Rev. Alfred L. Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Long, Blooming Glen, who had been the pastor of the Quakertown Lutheran Parish, has accepted the call and assumed his duties as pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church at Lansford, in Carbon County.

The Rev. Mr. Long succeeds Rev. Lester E. Fetter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Fetter, Telford, who recently accepted a call to Alsace Lutheran Church at Reading.

Corp. Robert Horning, Perkaskie, was reported seriously wounded in action with the forces in North Africa during the recent A. E. F. campaign.

Horning's father, Joseph Horning, Perkaskie, received word that he was wounded in the arm on May 2.

Funeral Is Planned For Mrs. Robert H. Gibson

Funeral service for Mrs. Emma T. Gibson, wife of Robert H. Gibson, who died suddenly at her home, 111 Huff avenue, Trenton, N. J., Saturday morning, are being arranged for Wednesday.

The Rev. Lime, pastor of Fifth Presbyterian Church, Trenton, will officiate at the service at the funeral home of Harold H. Haefner, Cornwells Heights, at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Burial will take place in Bristol Cemetery, and friends may call Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Gibson had been in ill health for a long period of time, but her sudden death came as a shock to her family. She was born at Flushing, Bensalem Township.

In addition to her husband she is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Eastwood Phipps, Trenton; Mrs. Fred Conde, Allendale, N. J.; Mrs. Nellie Glassner, Park Ridge, N. J.; a son, Fred Gibson, St. Augustine, Fla.; three sisters, Mrs. Wesley Bilger, Hulmeville; Mrs. Sarah McCoy, Bristol; Mrs. Catherine Aschback, St. Louis, Mo.; and three brothers, Allen and Forest Smith, Cornwells Heights; and Englebert Smith, Philadelphia.

OPERATED ON

Joseph Terleckas, 807 Radcliffe street, was operated on by Dr. R. C. Magill, of Bristol, a member of the Lankenau Hospital and Mary Drexel Home eye staffs, at Lankenau. Cataracts were removed.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT
(Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

"Two-Timing"

Washington, June 5. THE overwhelming bulk of the American people were solidly back of the President in his struggle to avert humiliating acknowledgment that Mr. John L. Lewis and his union miners were stronger than the United States Government. However drastic the steps he might have taken to end this threat to the nation he would have received full public support.

HE SIMPLY had to achieve a surface victory. Publicly, to inch or yield would have been unthinkable. He did neither and the nation breathes easier. Nevertheless, it is clear that while Mr. Roosevelt won the form, Mr. Lewis has won the substance. The fruits of victory are the latter's. When the final accounting is made there is every reason to believe it will be found that Mr. Lewis has out-manuevered, out-bluffed, out-fought Mr. Roosevelt and gained a large part of his original demands. This amounts to a national mortification. Already, with Roosevelt approval, concessions have been made to Mr. Lewis far greater than he expected to get. Instead of emerging from the struggle a beaten man, he will emerge with greater strength and increased prestige.

THIS IS not pleasant reading for Americans, but the facts may as well be faced. Also, in this vital business of strikes, walkouts, slow-downs and other forms of labor trouble with which the country has been afflicted since long before the war began, it does seem that the stage has been reached where all save the most obtuse must perceive that, to use a slang phrase of the cities, the people have been "two-timed" by the Roosevelt Administration in a shameful and shocking way. It is not possible accurately

Continued On Page Two

Thanks Yardley Folks For Blood Donations

YARDLEY, June 7.—The blood donor days held in Yardley, under the sponsorship of the Yardley Junior Civic Club, were pronounced successful in all respects. A total of 231 pints was collected and a letter from the Blood Donor Service of the American Red Cross, Philadelphia, was received commending the organization on the success of the project. Since the need for plasma is growing daily, everyone's continued support and cooperation is urged and it is hoped that neighboring communities will take up this worthwhile service.

Mrs. Carlton Leedom, who was in charge, has expressed the thanks of the club to the following for their assistance during the drive: Leroy Hackett, Mrs. W. T. Forsythe and Miss Margaret Groom, nurses; Mrs. Arthur Perkins, nurse's aide; Mrs. Vaux Wilson, Mrs. Harry Ambler, Mrs. William Woodhouse, Mrs. Warren Thatcher, Mrs. Ernest Adams and Mrs. George Arnett, of the Yardley Ambulance Corps; Mrs. John Coutant and John Kilgour for donations; Methodist Church for the use of its facilities; Arthur Bennett, Cold Spring Bleachery and Eagle Neckband; Mrs. Raymond Hampton, Mrs. Warren Johnson, Mrs. Howard Thompson, Mrs. Richard Washburn, Mrs. Michael Derrick and Mrs. William Taylor, aides.

The committee also extended its thanks to those who gave their blood for this cause.

Two Auxiliary Members Observe Anniversaries

EDGELY, June 7.—The Ladies' Auxiliary of Headley Manor Fire Co., held a meeting on Thursday evening.

Two members celebrated their birthday anniversaries, namely: Mrs. William Welker and Mrs. Emma Mutchler.

Refreshments were served.

PARTY FOR MISS PUCCIO

Miss Yolonda Puccio, Pond street, who graduated Tuesday evening from Bristol high school, was given a party after commencement exercises. Members of the class, friends and relatives from Bristol and Tacony attended. A buffet supper was served.

ARABS, HERDS MAKING WAY BACK TO HOMES

Corp. A. H. Davies Writes Parents From "Somewhere in Africa"

IN VICINITY OF TUNIS

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Davies, Jackson street, are in receipt of recent, interesting letters from their son, Corp. A. H. Davies, who is "somewhere in Africa."

Portions of letters written in May follow:

"Dear Mother and Dad:
"Off the line for a short rest, so I shall take the opportunity to let you know I'm still alive and O. K."
"Nothing new to report. You are no doubt better informed as to what is happening on the Tunisian front from day to day, than we are."
"Becoming more or less calmed down to this game of murder. They tell me I'm doing right—may God forgive me if I'm wrong."
"Been seeing quite a few of our enemy lately, both alive and dead, and although we are led to believe

Continued On Page Four

Carnival Closed When Complaints Are Received

A carnival which for the past week has been exhibiting on the P. R. R. grounds, South Bristol, was closed suddenly Saturday night, by Chief Bucks County Detective Anthony Russo. Russo stated that he had received many complaints about the carnival and that for that reason he took action. Russo entered the grounds at about 11 o'clock accompanied by Private Forester of Penna. State Police.

Later a general argument is reported to have taken place on the grounds between some of the carnival employees and patrons and Penna. State Police arrived.

One night previously during the week Russo visited the grounds and told some of the proprietors of the concessions that things would have to be run differently or else he would close the entire show.

The carnival left town yesterday.

EVENING AFFAIR

The members of the graduating class of the Bristol high school, relatives and friends were invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mosco, Washington street, Tuesday evening, when they entertained in honor of their daughter, Lida. Refreshments were served

FOUR OF FIVE LEGION CADETS GIVEN HONORABLE DISCHARGES ARE ALREADY IN ARMED FORCES; FOURRAGERE GIVEN A STRAFFE AT BANQUET

With five young men of American Legion Cadets slated for honorable discharges on the occasion of the 16th annual military ball and banquet here on Saturday evening, only one was present to personally receive his discharge from Harry A. Chapin, Commander of the Corps, and chairman of the Cadet committee of Robert W. Bracken Post, No. 382, American Legion. The other four, already serving in the armed forces of the United States, are at widely separated points, and their discharges will be delivered to their homes.

On this occasion, at the affair held in Bristol high school auditorium, 17 non-commissioned officers of the corps were presented with certificates of appointment, this being a new departure—the first time such certificates have been awarded in the corps.

Although the gathering was much smaller than in previous years, due to conditions of the times, a most enjoyable program took place, with tempting menu catered, interesting formal program with presentations, a fine floor show by professional talent, and dancing.

I. Johnston Hetherington, Baltimore, Md., a past commander of Bracken Post, who has for many years served as toastmaster at the Cadet banquet, was again accorded that honor.

An honorable discharge was presented to Vincent O'Leary, and the four for whom discharges were granted, and who are now in service are inclusive of: James L. Bolton, Marine Corps; Emilio Caucci, Army Air Force; Bentley Chapin, Navy (now in Africa); William Hendrickson, Navy.

The coveted award of the year, the honor cord, was bestowed upon Arthur Straffe, presentation being made by Commander Chapin. After the fourragere was placed on Straffe's shoulder, as he expressed appreciation of the honor, he announced that he has already taken the oath of the U. S. Army. Commending the recipient Commander Chapin told of the difficulties overcome by Straffe, both in music and drilling in his early days in the corps. "He became one of our best bass drummers, can blow a bugle, and in fact is my right-hand man."

The following non-commissioned officers, honored by elevation on Saturday evening, were presented with their certificates: Vincent Cordisco and Samuel Sottile, lieutenant commanders; Arthur Straffe, first sergeant; Frances DeGregorio, drum major; Anne Schaefer, sgt., color squad; Eugene Cordisco, sgt., bass drum section; Joseph Embesli, sgt., snare drum section; Paul Morone, sgt., bass bugle section; Edward Finegan, sgt., tenor bugle section; George Gensbauer and Lester Shire, sgts., soprano drum section; James Orino, cpl., snare drum section.

Continued On Page Four

CHRISTENING DINNER

EDGELY, June 7.—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Parr had their daughter, Carol Betty Ann, christened at their home on Sunday by the Rev. Waldo Parker, of St. Paul's Chapel. After the christening, dinner was served to 50 guests. The guests were from Bristol and Philadelphia.

As a result of increased interest in erosion control, the directors decided to petition the State Soil Conservation Board at Harrisburg, for a public hearing relative to creating a new soil conservation district under Pennsylvania law in eight Bucks county townships where erosion damage has been severe and where interest is keenest for forming a district.

These townships are: Doylestown, Warrington, Buckingham, Solebury, Upper Makefield, East and West Rockhill, and Milford. If any other township farmers are interested in having their community included in order that they may get technical help with their erosion problems they should write to Franklin Davenport, secretary, Bucks County Land Conservation Association, Doylestown, RFD 1, Pa., or their local AAA community committeeman, it is stated.

Formation of a district in Bucks county would not compel any farmer to change his way of farming, it was said. If a favorable hearing is held for a district, farmers will be given the opportunity to vote on the matter.

Feast of Weeks To Be Observed By Jews

Redefinition of faith and a re-consecration for religious values are the great themes of the Jewish festival of Shovuos, or the Feast of Weeks, which Jews will celebrate on Wednesday. Certainly significant in our day is a holiday dedicated to such aims. Today, fighting for a better world, a world, filled with ethical and moral principles, we can eagerly appreciate the Festival of Shovuos.

Originating as a festival marking the end of the grain harvest, it developed, after the fall of the Temple, into a commemoration of the Giving of the Law to Moses on Mount Sinai. Shovuos celebrates the transformation of the Jewish people from a band of wanderers stumbling out of Egypt into a religious people with a spiritual document and mission.

Shovuos is called the "Feast of Weeks" because it falls seven weeks (a week of weeks) after Passover.

Reform Jews celebrate the festival for one day; Conservative and Orthodox Jews celebrate it for two days.

In the nineteenth century, Reform Jews introduced the ceremony of Confirmation into the Shovuos Service. This ceremony, now also followed in many Conservative synagogues, is a formal confirmation of boys and girls in their faith. It is symbolic of the Giving and the Acceptance of Law.

The Biblical story of Ruth with its tale of Ruth's acceptance of the Jewish faith is read in the synagogue service on this festival.

Pattersons Entertain In Honor of Their Son

Mr. and Mrs. George Patterson, Buckley street, entertained on Thursday evening in honor of their son George, Jr., who was four years old. Those present: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Corbett and daughters Jean and Betty; Mrs. Robert Greadhead and daughter Ethel Joan, Mr. and Mrs. George Patterson and son George, Jr., and daughter Jane; Mr. and Mrs. William Weaver and daughter Ethel May; Miss Ethel May Weaver, Mrs. Frank H. Weaver, Trenton, N. J.

George, Jr., received many gifts.

MOLONEY-BROWNBACK NUPTIAL CELEBRATED

Wedding Ceremony Takes Place at Croydon Catholic Church

A TRIP TO NEW YORK

NEWPORTVILLE, June 7.—On Saturday afternoon, at five o'clock, in St. Thomas Aquinas Church, Croydon, Miss Helen M. Brownback, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell H. Brownback, Newport Terrace, and PFC William Moloney, of Camp Rooker, Ala., were married by the Rev. Fr. Diamond.

Attending the couple were Miss Pauline Silwa, Bristol Road, Bensalem Township, and Mr. Fred Muth, of Newportville.

The bride was attractive in a white floor-length gown of rayon faille, featuring a train. It had a light-fitting bodice, square neck.

Continued On Page Four

Rawson Resigns Post In Argentine Gov't

Buenos Aires, June 7.—(INS)—Gen. Arturo Rawson today resigned his post as Provisional President of Argentina in favor of War Minister General Pedro Ramirez.

Announcement of his resignation came only a few hours after the revolutionary leader dissolved the Argentine Congress.

Ramirez, who resigned as War Minister in Ramon S. Castillo's cabinet, presided at the first meeting of the Junta Government Friday after the rebels occupied Buenos Aires in a swiftly successful coup that ousted Castillo's Isolationist Government.

A special decree announcing Rawson's resignation was issued at the Government House in the Plaza de Mayo this morning after an all-night conference. It stated that "General Rawson, considering his duty done, resigned the leadership of the military movement, leaving General Pedro Ramirez at the head of the State."

A second decree cancelled ceremonies scheduled for noon today, when Rawson and the new Cabinet members were to have taken their oaths of office.

Earlier informed quarters predicted that several of the new Cabinet members also would resign, including Dr. Jose Maria Rosa, Minister of Agriculture; Dr. Horacio Calderon, Minister of Justice and Public Instruction, and General Domingo Martinez, Foreign Relations Minister.

1146 PUPILS ENROLLED IN TOWNSHIP SCHOOLS

A survey made by officials of Bristol Township public school system shows that at the end of the 1942-43 term there are 1146 pupils enrolled in the township schools, with 171 of these being in the junior high school.

A total of 123 students are attending senior high schools, with 29 of them graduating this spring.

The number completing the junior high school course (ninth grade) this week was 67.

A Total of 171 Are Enrolled In The Junior High School

128 ARE NOW SENIORS

LATEST NEWS BULLETINS

"Instinct of French People Guides to 4th Republic . . ."

Algiers.—General Charles De Gaulle today had told a mass meeting of his followers that "the instinct of the French people guides them to a fourth republic."

"France does not ask to be liberated by others, even by her best friends—she does not want gifts," he said. "We intend to win liberty ourselves with the aid of others."

Bombers, Fighters of 14th U. S. Force Aid Chinese

Chungking.—Bombers and fighters of the 14th United States Army Air Force are continuing to operate in active support of Chinese ground troops slowly pushing back Jap invasion forces on the western Hupeh front, Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters announced today.

2,000 Miners Refuse To Work

Bellevue, O.—Two thousand miners today refused to work in three Ohio pits despite a telegraphic "back to work" order from national United Mine Workers president John L. Lewis.

All three of the continued strikes were in the nature of outlaw actions, since union leaders did not participate in any of the meetings.

America's War Production Boomed in April

Washington.—America's war production continued its booming increases in April. War Production Board chairman Donald Nelson disclosed today as he announced a seven per cent rise over March output.

April production of ships, planes, munitions and other implements of war fell short of its $5,000,000,000 goal, Nelson said, though general delivery was in better balance than ever before. Heavy bombers paced the over-all output, he revealed. Nearly 7,000 planes of all types were built.

Child Smothered; Father Had Never Seen It

Philadelphia.—Navy Lieutenant Robert Gallagher, 26, has been so busy fighting in the Pacific that he never had a chance to see his three-month-old son, John.

In recent letters to his Frankford home he had expressed keen interest in the child's development.

Early today, however, the child's mother, Hean, discovered the child had accidentally smothered in its crib.

Launch Transportation System Investigation

Washington.—The Senate Truman Committee has launched a full-scale investigation of the nation's transportation system as a spread of the east coast gasoline shortage threatened to affect other regions.

The inquiry embraces both rail and motor transportation, and will include a study of the difficulties of war workers in reaching war plants because of the tightness of the gas and tire situation.

YOUTH DROWNS IN DELAWARE RIVER AT DUNK'S FERRY

William Barlow, 16, Walks From Boat and Then Goes Down

BODY NOT RECOVERED

Rescue Crews Grapple Until Late But Do Not Find The Body

A 16-year-old Philadelphia lad was drowned in the Delaware River off Dunk's Ferry Road, Bensalem Township, shortly before 1:30 yesterday afternoon.

The victim of the river tragedy was William Barlow, 2408 N. 3rd street.

The body has not as yet been recovered although rescue crews grappled until late last night.

Barlow and his chum, Joseph Merlino, 14, 309 York street, Philadelphia, were out in the river in a

Continued On Page Four

Attractive Ceremony Held in St. Ann's Church

Given in marriage by her brother, Miss Vera M. Scancelli, of 16 Lincoln avenue, became the bride yesterday afternoon at two o'clock of Mr. Samuel A. Cuttone, of 719 Corson street. The bride was escorted to the altar of St. Ann's R. C. Church by Mr. Mario Scancelli, as organ music was rendered by Miss Frances Tamburella.

During the ceremony, over which the Rev. Fr. Peter Pincel officiated, Mr. Joseph Galzerano, Jefferson avenue, sang "Ave Maria."

Two young women served as bridal attendants, they being Miss Albina Tazik, Cleveland street, the maid of honor; and Miss Anna Pettolio, Lincoln avenue, bridesmaid. The best man was Mr. Joseph Bono, Jefferson avenue.

The former Miss Scancelli, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gulo Scancelli, was gowned in white satin. Head trim was used at the sweetheart neckline, and sleeves were long. The gown buttoned down the back, and the full skirt was gathered onto a long train. Her veil of net was held in place by a crown of beads and pearls, the scalloped veil having a white satin piping. She wore white satin slippers and carried calla lilies.

Miss Tazik selected a costume of yellow net, the gown being floor length. It had short sleeves and a ruffle appeared at the hip-line. The bodice was lace trimmed. She wore a net bonnet of yellow tone, gold slippers and carried a spray of mixed flowers enhanced with an orchid bow. Miss Pettolio was attired in orchid, the jacket-effect bodice being of lace, and the skirt of net. Her bonnet was of orchid net, slippers were of silver, and her mixed spray of flowers was tied with a yellow bow.

An evening reception occurred at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Cuttone, 719 Corson street, where the newlyweds will reside. Mr. Cuttone and bride left for a week's stay in New York City. For the trip the former Miss Scancelli wore a two-piece silk suit of navy blue with white collar; white pique hat with navy blue veil, accessories of white, and an orchid corsage.

WHAT OUR BOYS ARE DOING TO WIN THE WAR

A future machinist's mate in the Navy, Edward Roger Sitzer, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Sitzer, Rural Route No. 4, 27 Radcliffe street, Bristol, Pa., is attending the Navy's school for machinists on the campus of the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minn. Upon graduating in 16 weeks he will be a specialist in the operation of main and auxiliary engines and be eligible for promotion to a petty officer rating.

Earning assignment to the school by showing an aptitude for this type of work in a series of tests taken during recruit training, he will receive instruction in how to adjust, repair and overhaul engines, and be familiarized with the details of ship's drainage systems, distilling plants, internal combustion engines, evaporators and pumps.

The highest ranking students are given ratings as machinist's mates, second class, upon graduation. The remainder will be classed as firemen and be eligible for petty officer ratings upon obtaining further experience on active duty.

The Bristol Courier

Established 1910
Published Every Evening (Except Sundays) at Beaver and Garden Sts., Bristol, Pa. Bell Phone 546
Only Daily Paper in Lower Bucks County

BRISTOL PRINTING COMPANY
Owner and Publisher
Incorporated May 27, 1914
Serrill D. DeJongh President
Serrill D. DeJongh, Managing Editor
Ellis E. Ratcliffe Secretary
Lester D. Thorne Treasurer

Subscription Price per year, in advance, $4.00; Six Months, $2.00;
Three Months, $1.00.
The Courier is delivered by carrier in Bristol, Edgely, Tullytown, Bridgeville, Crofton, Andalusia,
West Bristol, Humberville, Bain Addition, Newportville and Torresdale. Major for ten cents a week.

JOB PRINTING
The Courier has the most complete commercial printing department in Bucks County. Work of any description promptly and satisfactorily done.

Entered as Second Class Mail matter at the Post Office at Bristol, Pa., under the Act of March 3, 1879.
"International News Service has the exclusive rights to use for republication in any form all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper. It is also exclusively entitled to use for republication all the local or undated news published herein."

MONDAY, JUNE 7, 1943

HITLER STARTED IT

Hitler seized power in Germany in 1933. And in every year from 1934 until the day of the Munich pact, he spent not less than $4,000,000,000 on arms. He prepared for war on the most colossal scale in history. The manpower of Germany was massed for war. Even the children were organized. Hitler and his foul crew threatened and blustered.
They vowed to pour death from the skies on any nation that stood in the path of the master race.

Hitler started the war he was lusting for. He made good his threat. He poured death and destruction from the skies on Holland and Belgium and France and Poland, and later on England and Russia with a savagery never before witnessed by a civilized people.

There was one way to fight Hitler and one way only—with his own weapons. And so today Hitler and his petty stooge, the once arrogant dictator of Italy are seeing death and destruction heaped on their lands on a scale which even they never thought possible.

Great portions of the Ruhr Valley are devastated. Huge dams are shattered into bits of masonry.
Thousands of Italians are fleeing northward to Rome to escape the misery of the incessant bombings.
The Axis high command lives in dread of the expected invasion or invasions.

There are those in the Allied nations who look with sadness upon the destruction of life and property. But they realize, too, that it can not be avoided. The world is confronted with a beast.
It must destroy that beast with every weapon at its command. It has to be destroyed for the survival of civilization. It is a tragic episode that one madman has brought to the world.

OPA AND BUSINESS

One of the most serious dislocations on the domestic front today is the grave difficulty of business houses in observing all of OPA's directives. The truth is that in many lines of endeavor, OPA orders practically invite law violation if the business man is to keep his doors open.

There seems to be a great deal of merit to the complaint of many business men that in dealing with OPA they are forced to discuss their problems with lawyers interested only in compliance with legal technicality. It is admitted freely in Washington that there is serious disagreement between OPA's administrators and OPA's lawyers and that the lawyers hold the top hand.

Few grave legal problems are involved in rationing. The problems are actually those of fairness, of equity, of good American common sense. The American merchant asks only a fair return on his investment and services. He has accepted rationing and price control with good humor, patience and tact. But he has lost most of his cheerfulness, his patience is at the thin end, and his tact is about to go.

There is a limit to how long he can hold out against the bureaucrats in Washington against whom he cannot defend himself.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

By Courier Staff Member

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol September 15, 1881. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

An alarm of fire last night started out the firemen, and the steamer, drawn by Joshua Hurton's horses, went at a rattling speed up into the second ward. The firemen and their apparatus arrived back at their quarters safely without being called upon for any difficult service, as the fire was nothing more than the burning of a pair of trousers in a small house on Pond street. This article of clothing had been used to stop up the hole in the chimney and when a fire was built in the stove, the flames ascended the chimney, and the trousers caught fire. They were not insured, and will prove a total loss.

The "Stalwarts," commanded by Oscar Thomas, and the "Odds and Ends," under the captaincy of John Callanan, played a game of baseball yesterday in which some remarkable playing was exhibited.
The Stalwart band was composed of nine men and a dog, and as the latter was an expert player, it was not strange that the game was so overwhelmingly in their favor.

John S. Brelsford, when coming across the gates at the tide lock on the canal on Monday, caught his watch chain in some portion of the gates, pulling his watch out of his pocket, breaking the chain and loosing the watch, a silver one, overboard. A long and patient vigil, which detained those engaged in it until midnight, was spent in fishing for the lost time-piece, and quite singularly it was recovered, although sunk in water 12 feet deep.

AMERICAN BRED by FRANKEN MELONEY

SYNOPSIS

There was no threat of stormy weather when pretty Ann Rivers left her married sister's swank home in Bar Harbor, Maine. But on a lonely road outside Providence, she ran into a sleet storm—and a ditch—into which her car refused to budge. At the Tru-Frend Tourist Bungalows, where she sought help, the brusque young proprietor informs her the telephone is out of order. Paul Freund's blind mother, a kindly old lady, suggests that Ann take one of the cabins for the night. Sitting before the Freunds' kitchen fire, Ann recalls her imperious sister Helen's disapproval of her plans to seek employment in New York and, if possible, locate a buyer for Broad-fields, the large farm in Connecticut left Ann by her late father. Mrs.
Freund explains that Paul's wife, Carol, is expecting a baby. Ann visits with Carol while Paul is having his dinner and later, as she leaves for her cabin, elderly Mrs.
Freund expresses the hope that Ann will not mind sharing it with Rosalinga, Ann's cousin who proved to be a beautiful Great Dane, not housed with her companions in the kennels outside. But the reason was soon obvious when Rosalinga's nine new puppies arrived. Returning to the main house for milk for Rosalinga, Ann is pressed into service by the local doctor in Carol's behalf.

CHAPTER SIX

She braced herself, but she was unprepared for the shock of Carol's still white face upon the pillow.
The doctor seemed unprepared for it too. He sprang to the bed and lifted the limp wrist. "We'll have to work fast." He began whipping shades of the lamps. He tossed her a freshly laundered sheet from a pile on the table. "Pin that about you, and do your hair up in a towel."

She watched him lay out the contents of his instrument bag with sure swift fingers, and felt that before this country physician she stood in the presence of true greatness.

"Stand there," He gestured her to one side of the bed. "Do what I tell you to, when I tell you, even if you don't understand why. And don't be afraid of my strength."

There was the strong smell of antiseptic in the room, and the scrape of forceps in a pan. She felt her knees turn fluid beneath her.

"Young lady, if you faint you may cost this girl her life." The doctor's voice was brutally frank. "We might have to—Here, hold this." He handed her an ominous looking instrument wrapped in a towel. Her hands shook.

We might have to—The unfinished sentence was like a threat to her sanity. What might he have to do? She remembered that sometimes babies were sacrificed that the mother might live—Or was it the other way round?

Fevered moments of action lengthened, and finally passed, and still the battle for life was waged.
Waves of giddiness approached her,
and she bit her teeth into her lips until sharp pain drove the faintness away. Minutes or hours later—she didn't know which—she glanced up to see Paul standing in the doorway.

"More cloths, and more water!"
the doctor ordered.

Another dry house is being built at the Bristol Worsted Mills. This makes the eighth addition within the last five years. Since the establishment of the mills here their capacity has been increased fully one-third.

It is estimated that there are about 50 vacant houses in the borough at present. As a consequence rents are moderate, and tenants in sist on having everything in apple order before they rent a dwelling.

The iron trade in Bristol is brisk.
The Rolling Mill is running to its full capacity, and the Bristol Iron Foundry has plenty of orders.

The fire committee of council advertises today for sealed proposals for the erection of a hose house for Fire Co. No. 2.

The school directors have acquired the services of Prof. W. L.
Delap, of Adams County, as principal and superintendent of the Bristol public schools, and he will enter upon his duties on the first of October.

During the absence of our constitutional force at Doylestown this week, Elminth C. Brown has been acting as guardian of the peace,
and yesterday lodged his man in the lock-up.

The venerable John G. Spencer,
of Oxford Valley, the oldest postmaster in the county, was in Bristol this week and made a pleasant call at the Gazette office.

Some of our amateur fishermen have been unusually successful in catching rock fish from the wharves along the river.

The tomato canning establishments are paying about nine dollars per ton for the tomatoes used by them. The indications are that the canning season will not be more than half its usual length on account of the rapid ripening of the crop, and the drying up of the vines by the drought.

The Langhorne Bearon says that a very thrilling affair occurred at Langhorne station on Friday afternoon last. Mr. George W. Bolleau and family had just returned from Long Branch and Miss Sue, the daughter, stood near the platform on the lower side of the track, holding the horse by the head, when the 6:21 train started up, started the horse and off he started with Miss Bolleau holding fast to him. When at the end of the platform he made a sudden jump which broke her hold of him and threw her on the track immediately, within a few feet of the approaching train. The train would have undoubtedly run over her, had not the engineer seen her just in the nick of time, and stopped the engine, within a few feet of her.

The school directors have acquired the services of Prof. W. L.
Delap, of Adams County, as principal and superintendent of the Bristol public schools, and he will enter upon his duties on the first of October.

During the absence of our constitutional force at Doylestown this week, Elminth C. Brown has been
acting as guardian of the peace,
and yesterday lodged his man in
the lock-up.

The venerable John G. Spencer,
of Oxford Valley, the oldest postmaster in the county, was in Bris-

PRESS COMMENT

FOURTH TERM DRAFT A JOKE

The masses are tired of living on promises that have failed to materialize in ten years under the New Deal. They want a change and the old house-penis of being "drafted" for President is an stale as a Joe Miller joke book. President Roosevelt has not only passed the stage of usefulness, he has never achieved that eminent position.
A fourth term? A fifth term?

They have dreamed, but they have not thought."—New York Sun.

PRIVATE ENTERPRISE

If we are to take Mr. Roosevelt's remarks seriously, he looks on the food conference now meeting at Hot Springs as rather narrowly a personal and private enterprise of his own.

For the President to talk as though this conference were comparable to his own private baths is to fall into a figure of speech which is not felicitous in any sense. It is to suggest that ten years of power have somewhat exaggerated Mr. Roosevelt's sense of personal proprietorship over the basic interests of the American people and of the peoples of the whole world. Baltimore Sun.

Several years ago, the Methodist Church ordered all its ladies aid groups in the country to describe themselves as the Women's Society
for Christian Service, but the society here is a die-hard and prefers
the traditional title.

NEW DEAL FRANKNESS

"Heartaches, apathy and lack of confidence are the inevitable results of distrust about the frankness of the government."

—Boston Herald.

"PLANLESS PLANNERS"

"In short, the government planners have not planned. They have questioned, but they have not planned. They have issued regulations, but they have not regulated."

—Boston Herald.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Continued From Page One

To compute the cost of this performance in men, money and materials, but it has been very great.

WOMAN HEADS SOCIETY

53 SUCCESSIVE YEARS

By International News Service

GRAHAMSVILLE, N. Y.—(INS)—

A record for leadership of a social organization was established in this area when Miss Addie Reynolds was elected president of the Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist Church for the 53rd successive year.

The election took place on her 82nd birthday and resulted from the unanimous vote of 82 members present.

Several years ago, the Methodist Church ordered all its ladies aid
groups in the country to describe
themselves as the Women's Society
for Christian Service, but the society here is a die-hard and prefers
the traditional title.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Continued From Page One

To compute the cost of this per-

AMERICAN BRED by FRANKEN MELONEY

By FRANK R. KENT

Continued From Page One

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

They have dreamed, but they have not thought."—New York Sun.

WOMAN HEADS SOCIETY

53 SUCCESSIVE YEARS

By International News Service

GRAHAMSVILLE, N. Y.—(INS)—

A record for leadership of a social organization was established
in this area when Miss Addie Reynolds was elected president of the Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist Church for the 53rd successive
year.

The election took place on her 82nd birthday and resulted from the unanimous vote of 82 members present.

Several years ago, the Methodist Church ordered all its ladies aid
groups in the country to describe
themselves as the Women's Society
for Christian Service, but the society here is a die-hard and prefers
the traditional title.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Continued From Page One

To compute the cost of this per-

AMERICAN BRED by FRANKEN MELONEY

By FRANK R. KENT

Continued From Page One

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

To compute the cost of this per-

Affair at Hoffman Home Honors Miss McGonigle

Miss Blanche Hoffman, Pine street, entertained on Thursday evening in honor of Miss Charlotte McGonigle, Pine street. The affair was a surprise miscellaneous shower for Miss McGonigle.

The evening was enjoyed in a social way and games were played. A buffet supper was served, pink and white decorations being used.

Those present: Mrs. Eugene Dugan, Mrs. Daniel Nolan, Mrs. John Mulligan, Mrs. James Hoffman, Mrs. Viola Lamont, Mrs. Paul Johnson, Mrs. P. McGonigle, Mrs. Walter Colville, Mrs. Kenneth Clifton, Mrs. Charles Ford, Mrs. W. Lynn, the Misses Loretta Smith, Sarah Swank, Charlotte McGonigle, Rita and Doris Dolan, Phyllis Manzo, Yolanda Monachello, Helen and Blanche Hoffman.

In a Personal Way - - -

INTERESTING bits of news mainly about people you know. A chronicle of the activities of the people of Bristol; their goings and comings. - - -

To arrange for publication of weddings, telephone The Bristol Courier, Bristol 846, notifying at least a few days in advance the date of ceremony. Engagement announcements must be submitted in writing.

Lief Gustafson, of the Merchant Marine, who is stationed in Philadelphia, spent several days last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nelson, Sr., Roosevelt street.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Sylvester and son, Holmesburg, spent several days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Capella, Jefferson avenue.

Petty Officer 3/c Francis O'Boyle

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

EVEN though it is necessary to serve the same meat over and over, it can be given new guises by combination with different vegetables, noodles or potatoes.

For instance, a spaghetti sauce made with meat balls or chopped cubed steak, is a hearty and usually popular dish. Ground pork mixed with cooked rice and seasoned with onion makes delicious patties. Beef brisket cut into squares and combined with lima beans, onions and uncooked rice to make a thick stew is a filling and flavorful dish. Lamb in a curry sauce served with noodles makes a dish which will bring forth requests to "Let's have that again."

When planning your Sunday dinner this week, you will find fresh rhubarb, asparagus, beans, carrots, mushrooms, onions, peas, spinach and tomatoes the easiest on your budget, according to the A & P Food Service for Homemakers.

The following menus may help to save you time and worry:

- No. 1
American Goulash
Green Beans
Carrot Sticks
Hot Rolls
Baked Creamy Rice Pudding
Tea or Coffee
- No. 2
Stuffed Flank Steak
Creamed Noodles
Buttered Asparagus
Peanut and Carrot Salad
Loaf Cake with Rhubarb Sauce
Tea or Coffee
- No. 3
Sliced Cucumbers with Cocktail Sauce
Curried Lamb and Noodles
Green Peas with Onion Butter
Hot Rolls
Strawberry Shortcake
Iced Tea

PHILA. EXPRESS DAILY TRIPS
Farruggio's Express
901 Mansion St. Dial 2953
Philadelphia, 7 N. Front Street
Phone Market 8548

Ritz Theatre

CROYDON, PA.
Not always ice man's fault when wife treats you cool.

FINAL SHOWING
"COMMANDOS STRIKE AT DAWN"
starring Paul Muni with Anna Lee, Lillian Gish

—Tuesday—
"7 Miles from Alcatraz"
—and—
"Sherlock Holmes' Secret Weapon"

Today's Quiet Moment

(By the Rev. James R. Galley)

Pastor

We praise thee, O God, for the privilege which is ours of coming into thy presence, and of surrounding the table of our Lord. We thank thee for the sacrifice of Christ which commemorates. Make us capable of receiving the gift of thy spirit. As we partake of the elements which represent the body and the blood of Christ may we picture before our minds His sacrifice. As the elements enter into our bodies to physically nourish us, may thy Spirit enter into our hearts to sustain us in the things which are spiritual. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

has returned to his station at Cape May, N. J., after several days' visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. O'Boyle, Wilson avenue.

Mrs. Sidney Popkin and Miss Janet Brace, Landreth Manor, have returned from three days' visit with Miss Brace's relatives in New York City.

Mrs. Joseph Pierce, Jr., Benson Place, spent several days last week as guest of Miss Phyllis Patton, Aldan, formerly of Bristol.

Miss Florence Ludwig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ludwig, New Buckley street, is a patient in Abington Hospital, where she was operated upon for appendicitis on Friday.

Mrs. Edgar Hickey, McKinley street, has been nursing a broken arm recently sustained when she fell from a bicycle.

George and Jane Patterson, children of Mr. and Mrs. George Patterson, Buckley street, are out again after being ill with measles.

Mrs. Jacob Popkin, Farragut avenue, was a guest during the past week of Mrs. N. Popkin, Burlington, N. J.

Mrs. Vincent Genco has returned to her home on Pond street, after two weeks' visit with her husband, Sgt. Genco, at Camp Gordon, Johnston, Fla. Sgt. Genco has now been transferred to Camp Pickett, Va.

BRISTOL LAST TIMES 2 BIG HITS Show Starts 7

The Thrilling Outdoor Epic of America's Pioneers Fighting For Democracy and Freedom!

A Star-Studded Action Hit

John Wayne and Claire Trevor with BRIAN DONLEVY George Sanders and A Cast of 1000

"ALLEGHENY UPRISING"

Are You Salvaging Copper?

SCIENTIFICALLY AIR-CONDITIONED GRAND MONDAY AND TUESDAY Bargain Matinee Monday at 2.15

Broadway Brevities—"Three Cheers For The Girls" "Coal Black and The Seven Dwarfs" Latest News Events

—Coming Wednesday and Thursday— "FOREVER AND A DAY"

Mitchell Ancker, Jr., Knoxville, Tenn., is spending his vacation at his home on Radcliffe street.

Alexander DesRosiers, who is stationed in Alabama, spent several days last week at his home on Roosevelt street.

Pvt. Peter C. Pozzo, Cedar street, has been transferred to Buckley Field, Col. He graduated from Gunners School in Kingman, Ariz., and later will attend air mechanical school.

CAN OR FREEZE SOME ASPARAGUS FOR USE DURING THE WINTER

By Mrs. Katharine G. Moon

(Home Economics Representative)

To have a variety of green-colored vegetables for the family next winter, plan to can asparagus when it's at its best and is plentiful. Many homemakers will have their own supply from the family garden. If a freezer-locker plant is conveniently located and space is available, asparagus can be frozen successfully.

Canned or frozen asparagus has a wide range of uses. The vegetable may be combined with cream sauce and served on toast or in toasted baskets garnished with slices of hard cooked egg for a hearty supper dish. Asparagus and hard cooked eggs also make a delicious scalloped dish.

To can asparagus wash the stalks and remove the large scales if necessary. Reserve the tougher part of the stalk for soup. For whole asparagus, tie in bunches of 20 to 30 stalks of the desired length. Place in a pan with enough boiling water to cover and boil 3 minutes to shrink and to shorten the processing time. Remove the string and pack in clean jars. Add ½ teaspoon of salt to each pint and fill the water in which the asparagus was cooked or freshly boiled water. Partially seal the jar and process in a pressure cooker 30 minutes for a pint or 35 minutes for a quart.

If a pressure cooker is not available and the asparagus has been freshly picked, it can be processed in a boiling water bath 100 minutes for a pint or 120 minutes for a quart. If the boiling water bath is used, the water should be nearly boiling when the jars are added, the water should cover the jars by at least one inch and should boil during the entire processing time. Asparagus can also be cut in one-inch pieces for canning. Home-canned asparagus should be boiled ten minutes before tasting.

In selecting asparagus for a freezer-locker, discard the small woody stalks. Wash and cut the stalks in desired length. Blanch by plunging in boiling water for 3 or 4 minutes. Then plunge into cold water, drain and pack into specially prepared containers for freezing. Place in quick freezing compartment at once.

CORNELL TO COLLECT HISTORY OF ALBERTA

By International News Service

ITHACA—(INS)—An attempt to collect and preserve, before it is too late, much of the history, color, and drama that went into the making of Canada will be inaugurated in the Province of Alberta this summer by R. E. Gard, Cornell instructor.

Sponsored in part by the Rockell Foundation in the interests of international good will and to help preserve those elements in the "way of life" for which men now fight, the Alberta folklore project is said to represent the first effort of this kind in that country to identify and perpetuate its past.

supply thrills and chills in the new picture.

In uniting the Frankenstein monster with the Wolf Man, Universal has a terrifying pair of fiends and the ingenious method by which they have been teamed by scenarist Curtis Siodmak, deserves unqualified praise.

ON THE SCREENS

BRISTOL THEATRE

Maybe it's not so small a world after all. At least Simone Simon and Michael Whalen haven't found it so. Simone and Whalen were both under contract at the same studio for four years, three of those years overlapping. But neither played in a picture with the other—nor did they even meet—until recently when both were signed to appear in the musical comedy, "Tahiti Honey."

"Tahiti Honey," in which Miss Simon is co-starred with Dennis O'Keefe, opened yesterday at the Bristol.

GRAND THEATRE

That shuddery entertainment phenomena, the horror drama, quickens its pace and lengthens its stride in "Frankenstein Meets the Wolf Man," which enjoyed a spectacular opening yesterday at the Grand Theatre. As indicated in the title, not one, but two monsters

RITZ THEATRE

Four hundred Canadian boys will soon fly against the Axis because Flying Officer Robert Coote of the RCAF, until two years ago a noted Hollywood actor, donned grease paint again for Paul Muni's "Commandos Strike at Dawn," on location near Victoria, B. C., for Columbia.

Coote was loaned by the Royal Canadian Air Forces to Columbia.

TIRE RECAPPING
BY Firestone
TIRES LOANED
While Your Tire Is Away
AutoBoys
408-410 Mill St. Phone 2816

Building Associations

These five Associations have total assets of $564,351.14.

They have a total reserve for losses or contingencies of $73,965.27.

They make only first mortgage loans on preferred real estate.

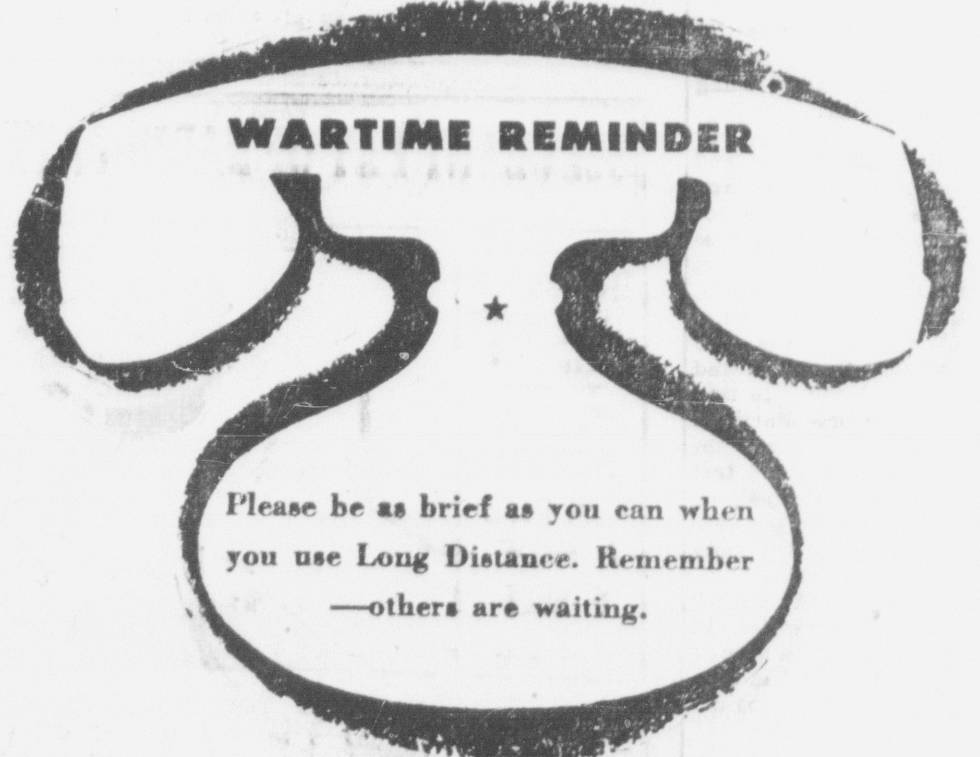

They have always paid their stockholders the full value of their principal with interest.

With the large reserves and carefully made loans they are safer and sounder than ever.

Subscribe for shares or make application for a loan.

- BRISTOL BUILDING ASSOCIATION
- HARRIMAN BUILDING ASSOCIATION
- THE UNION BUILDING AND LOAN COMPANY
- FIDELITY BUILDING ASSOCIATION
- CROYDEN BUILDING ASSOCIATION

HOWARD I. JAMES
HORACE N. DAVIS
Solicitors
205 Radcliffe Street
Bristol, Pennsylvania

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

to portray a Commando captain in the first great screen story of the film now at the Ritz Theatre, world's toughest fighting men.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

All copy must be received not later than 10 a. m., for publication on that day. Minimum cost, 30 cents. When insertions are not consecutive, one-day rate applies.

Announcements	Livestock
Deaths 1 GIBSON—At Trenton, N. J. June 5, 1943, Emma T. wife of Robert H. Gibson, of 111 Huff Ave., Trenton (8), N. J. Relatives and friends are invited to attend the service on Wednesday at 2 p. m., from the Funeral Home of Harold H. Hafner, Cornwells Heights. Interment in Bristol Cemetery. Friends may call Tuesday evening.	Horses, Cattle, Other Stock 48 10 HORSES—4, 5, 6 yrs. old; also 10 saddles. Howard Potter's Riding Academy, Hulmeville. WESTERN HORSE—Saddle, bridle and martingale. See Bill Brady, Amoco Station, ph. Bristol 2074.
Funeral Directors 5 A CONVENIENT PLAN—For moderate funerals. William I. Murphy Est., 316 Jefferson Ave., Bristol, Pa., phone 2417.	Poultry and Supplies 49 200 ANCONAS PULLETS—Laying 100% $1.50 each. Will sell in small lots. Also Jersey cow, fresh. Milking 16 qts. $100. Vernon Else, phone 3628, Morrisville, Pa.
MOLDEN FUNERAL SERVICE—Bristol, Pa. Within the means of all. Phone 2217 or 2169.	Merchandise for Sale Articles for Sale 51 CRANE RADIATOR—17 section, 5 column, 26 inch Reas., good cond. Apply 621 Pine St.
PERSONALS 7 NOTICE—Will care for child for working mother. Tullytown or vicinity preferred. Best care. Write Box No. 488, Courier.	CENTRIFUGAL—Water pump complete, steel towing cable, clamps, 2 sets wagon wheels with holsters, used hot water tank, laundry stove, 4 chairs, rug, small plain table, double bed, single bed with mattresses, big lot of galvanized pipes and fittings, lawn mower. Tel. Bristol 2405, Sylvester Coal Co., Tullytown, Pa.
Strayed, Lost, Found 10 LOST—Folding Kodak, pract. new, from car on Mill St. Rew. Phone 2833. Ret. to B. Dixon, 400 Mill St.	Business and Office Equipment 51 NATIONAL CASH REGISTER—1c to $8 keys. Will sell cheap. Apply 114 Radcliffe St.
LOST—Cocker spaniel, red & white, 9 mos. old. Rew. Ans. to name of "Freckles." Phone Bristol 7841.	ROYAL TYPEWRITER—Will sell cheap. Apply 114 Radcliffe St.
LOST—Wallet cont. sum of money, R. R. pass, auto & drivers lic., other valuable papers. On a 20 p. m. train to Trenton on Friday. Very liberal reward. Ralph E. Cahall, Sr., 248 Monroe St.	Seeds, Plant, Flowers 63 PLANTS—Asters & snapdragons, 25c per dozen. Harry Molden, Bath Road.
Automotive Automobiles for Sale 11 BEFORE YOU BUY—That used car, look at our selection. Simpson Chevrolet, Inc., 222 E. Bridge St., Morrisville.	VICTORY PLANTS—Tomato, peppers, cabbage, 15c doz. Eggplants, 20c doz. C. Vattimo, 617 Cedar st.
37 PACKARD—Conv. coupe. Good tires, radio, heater. Phone Bristol 9817.	SPECIAL SALE—10 columbine, 10 galhardi, 5 shasta daisy, all hearty. $1. No delivery. Yeagles, Bath Road, phone Bristol 2113.
Business Service Building and Contracting 19 ELECTRICAL CONTRACTOR—George P. Bailey, ph. Bristol 7125.	SCARLET SAGE—25c doz., potted 60c doz. Asters, snapdragons, 25c doz. C. Vattimo, 617 Cedar street.
FOR ANY CONSTRUCTION—Maintenance or repairs call Bris. 2460 or Lang. 2244. Financing arranged.	SPECIALS at the Stores 64 WALLPAPER—Complete room lots for any room in the house, size 9x12 $1.15, incl. sidewalk, ceiling & border. Chas. Richman, 315 Mill.
DOES YOUR ROOF LEAK? Estimates cheerfully given, as small as $5 a month. S. Rosin, Write Box No. 484, Courier.	Wanted—To Buy 66 HIGHEST CASH PRICES PAID—For scrap iron & metal, junk cars & trucks. Used auto parts for sale, Crawford's, Bath Rd. at Midway, Phone Bristol 3165.
Wanted—Business Service 31 ROOFER—Wanted at once. To paint roofs. Marty Green Stores, 237 Mill St., Phone Bristol 2024.	WANTED—2nd hand canoe, good cond. Call Bristol 2774.
Employment Help Wanted—Female 32 WAITRESS—Must be over 21. Apply to Bristol House, 4 Mill St.	Real Estate for Rent Rooms without Board 68 RADCLIFFE ST., 1224—Room, five minutes walk from Fleetwings, Inc. Apply at above address.
We have jobs available FOR WOMEN On both day & night shift. A-1 working conditions. Applicants should be 18 to 50 years of age. Apply at our plant, 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., MANHATTAN SOAP CO., Bristol, Pa.	Wanted—Rooms or Board 73 WANTED AT ONCE ROOMS In Bristol, Tullytown and Andalusia FOR MEN AND WOMEN Call ROHM & HAAS COMPANY Personnel Dept. Phone Bristol 875
GIRL—For light housework. $15.00 per week. Apply 313 Mill St.	Apartment and Flats 74 LANGHORNE MANOR—Modern 5 rm. apt. (private) tile bath, beautiful grounds, garage, phone. Langhorne 2535, bet. 9 & 11 a. m.
WOMAN—For housework. $15 a week. Apply 315 Mill St. or call Bristol 644.	WARREN ST., 902—4 rooms and bath. All conv. Apply above address.
Help Wanted—Male 33 HANDYMAN—To cut glass, etc. Good pay. Call Bristol 2127.	Houses for Rent 77 CAPE COD COTTAGE—1, 2 adults, 4 rms. & all conv. Apply L. Burness, Maryland & Patterson aves., Croydon, Phone Bristol 7147.
WANTED—Boys to serve Couriers in upper and lower Croydon. Apply at Courier Office.	Real Estate for Sale Houses for Sale 84 A FEW MODERN HOMES—Are still available for defense workers. Call Bristol 2409 for appointment. Penn Valley Constructors, Inc.
WHAT IS YOUR WAR JOB? FLEETWINGS Division of Kaiser Cargo, Inc., Bristol, Pa. Extends this invitation and opportunity to male workers not engaged in essential war activities.	A LARGE 9 RM. HOUSE—For sale, all conv., situated on Bath St., with large plot of ground & outbuildings. Suitable for rooming house. Price very reasonable. Possession at once. Also other bargains. Charles La Polla, 1418 Farragut ave., phone Bristol 652.
PART TIME TRAINING AIR CRAFT WOODWORKING At the Bristol Vocational School. Evening classes to start soon.	BRISTOL PIKE—5 rms. & bath, 6 lots, 120' frontage, 125' deep. Hot water heat. Immed. possession. Very reas. Apply to Lovell, Elm Ave. & State Road, Eddington, bet. 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. daily.
PAID WHILE TRAINING! You may continue on your present job while preparing for a good paying full time job on the war production lines.	Lois for Sale 85 CORSON ST.—Lot for sale. Reas. call at 807 Buckley street.
FLEETWINGS Division of Kaiser Cargo, Inc. Interested applicants should apply at WAR MANPOWER COMMISSION U. S. EMPLOYMENT SERVICE 216 Mill Street BRISTOL, PA. Daily, 8.30 a. m. to 5 p. m.	LEGAL NOTICE PUBLIC SALE For Louis Flaxman, Street Road, between Bristol Pike and State Road, Eddington, Pa., Saturday, June 12, 1 P. M. Four fine work horses, 2 cows, stock bull, chickens, farm mail P-26, including plows, disc, balley, like new, steel roller, new corn planter, farm machinery, household goods. Send for circular. E. L. HARRY G. ELY, Auctioneer, Abington, Pa.
Financial Home Loans 40A IF YOU WANT QUICK ACTION—And low cost in your home loan, you'll like our loan plan. LOANS to purchase, refinance or repair. FIRST FEDERAL SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOC. OF BRUCKS CO., 118 Mill St., Bristol.

BAUROTH LEADING LEAGUE BATTERS; HITS 9 OUT OF 13

Star Infielder of Diamond Nine Hit Safely In Every Game

HE SCORES SIX RUNS

Tetterer, Now in Army, is Second With Average of .444

Harry Bauroth, star infielder of the Diamond team, is leading the batters of the Bristol Suburban League. Playing in five games, Bauroth has stepped to the plate 13 times and delivered 9 hits. He has hit safely in every game and against Hunter's on Friday night made four out of four. He has also scored six runs to take the lead in this department.

Norman Tetterer, who has been inducted into the Army, is tied for second on the batting list with a .444 average, the same "Bill" Stockton. Stockton is with the Hunter team while Tetterer wore a Diamond uniform.

The leaders:

	games	ab	hits	avg.
Bauroth, Diamond	5	13	9	.563
Tetterer, Diamond	3	9	4	.444
Stockton, Hunter	4	9	4	.444
LaFolla, Voltz	3	7	3	.428
Stratton, Voltz	4	10	4	.400
Hunter, R. H.	4	11	3	.364
Sullivan, R. H.	4	11	4	.364
Kramers, Voltz	4	11	4	.364
Vanzant, R. H.	5	9	3	.333
Black, Voltz	4	10	3	.300

Arabs, Herds Making Way Back To Homes

Continued From Page One

they are monsters and something out of this world, I find they live and die just as we humans do.

"You know perhaps better than anyone my nature. In spite of all that's happened I can't bring myself to feel a terrific hatred for the man I contact, for he's doing a job just as I, but I would love to kill his leaders, not his small petty leaders, but those at the head of this mess.

"One of the fellows got a hold of a German's wallet. Enclosed are a few pictures and a card from it. Just to give you proof that they really dress as they do in the movies and newspapers. Not knowing German I can't translate anything for you. Just save it as a souvenir. . . .

"Wish you could see me now. I haven't washed or shaved for over a week, and I've had on the same clothes for over a month. . . .

"Weather is getting quite hot now, about like the hottest days back there, and this is just beginning. . . .

"Think I'll get some much needed sleep. I just heard we may go up again tomorrow.

"Lots of love,
"HARL."
May 10th.

"Dear Mother:
"In the middle of a wheat field. Just finished eating my breakfast (not the wheat, but stew).

"Well, I guess we can now say 'It's over' at least so far as Africa is concerned. We chased Jerry through all these mountains and find nothing but abandoned equipment, some prisoners, but on the whole nothing. The tribes of Arabs, with their mules, and only possessions have been returning to their homes and land for the past three days, just a steady stream of humanity and cattle. I guess they are just as thankful 'Le Guerre est fini'.

"Now what? Europe, home, or Africa? I'm afraid it will be the first, however I would like a chance to return to the good ol' U. S. A. once more. Would like to have the opportunity to look up John, Rolly and some others I know are here.

"My ambition at the moment is to get washed, shaved and some clean clothes on (I've had these on since February). Then I want to go to civilization. . . .

"We're now getting somewhere near Tunis, although it's just far enough away to be miserable. From the way Tunis was bombed and shelled I doubt that there is much left of it, although it is said the women showered the Americans on their entry into the city with flowers and kisses. I think they deserved it for 'twas tough going.

"I couldn't give you anything for yesterday (Mother's Day), but the thing I thought you'd want most—that was in answer to my prayers that this campaign would be over by May 9th. . . .

"Gee, I wish I could take a picture of today. Beautiful sunny day! We're on the side of one hill looking across a small valley to a lot of hills out of which are coming the Arabs with their bawling herds and straggling kids. No trees but just rolling fields of grain, some of which has been cut. Here and there a square or checker pattern of plowed fields and sprinkled over the whole thing G. I. equipment as far as you can see. . . .

"Wish I could be home soon but—at least we've started the ball

ALL THE WAY BACK By Jack Sords

rollin' now. If Hitler doesn't take too long. Who knows?
"Lots of love,
"HARL."
May 10th.

Phila. Youth Drowns In River at Dunk's Ferry

Continued from Page One

boat. Barlow got out of the boat, stated Merlino, and started to wade to shore. "I told him that he had better be careful," said Merlino. "Then I saw him go down and saw his face once more then he never came up again."

Merlino told Penna, State Trooper Kintney that he and Barlow came to Croxdon yesterday morning in the bus. The two hired a boat along the Nesheaminy Creek and rowed down the river. They dropped anchor off Dunk's Ferry Road. Barlow pushed an oar down into the water to see how deep it was. Barlow got out of the boat and waded around in the water then started to walk to shore. When Merlino realized that his buddy had gone down he endeavored to get him but could not as the boat was anchored and before Merlino could pull in the anchor Barlow had disappeared beneath the surface of the water.

The two boys were unaccompanied and there were only one or two persons on the shore. Consequently Merlino had no assistance until it was too late.

The Bucks County Rescue Squad, Bristol Blood Donors, Croxdon firemen and two boats of seacouts responded to the call.

Giving the location of where Barlow was last seen in the water the Bucks County Rescue Squad dropped a buoy to mark the spot. Seven rescue crews went into action and dragged the vicinity for hours.

The spot at which Barlow drowned, 125 feet off shore and the water is said to be about 20 feet deep at the spot. There is a strong undertow.

Merlino said that Barlow is survived by his parents, three brothers and sister, the drowned youth being the oldest.

Barlow was described as being a strong youth of five feet, ten inches tall, weighing about 160 pounds, blue eyes and brown hair.

After grappling for an hour or more the rescue crews were organized into a straight line and then "swept" the river with their hooks.

Merlino said that he has an aunt, Mrs. Elmer Heston, residing in Croxdon but that he did not know the name of the street.

Merlino said that Barlow is survived by his parents, three brothers and sister, the drowned youth being the oldest.

Barlow was described as being a strong youth of five feet, ten inches tall, weighing about 160 pounds, blue eyes and brown hair.

After grappling for an hour or more the rescue crews were organized into a straight line and then "swept" the river with their hooks.

Merlino said that he has an aunt, Mrs. Elmer Heston, residing in Croxdon but that he did not know the name of the street.

Merlino said that Barlow is survived by his parents, three brothers and sister, the drowned youth being the oldest.

Barlow was described as being a strong youth of five feet, ten inches tall, weighing about 160 pounds, blue eyes and brown hair.

After grappling for an hour or more the rescue crews were organized into a straight line and then "swept" the river with their hooks.

Merlino said that he has an aunt, Mrs. Elmer Heston, residing in Croxdon but that he did not know the name of the street.

Merlino said that Barlow is survived by his parents, three brothers and sister, the drowned youth being the oldest.

Barlow was described as being a strong youth of five feet, ten inches tall, weighing about 160 pounds, blue eyes and brown hair.

After grappling for an hour or more the rescue crews were organized into a straight line and then "swept" the river with their hooks.

Merlino said that he has an aunt, Mrs. Elmer Heston, residing in Croxdon but that he did not know the name of the street.

Merlino said that Barlow is survived by his parents, three brothers and sister, the drowned youth being the oldest.

Barlow was described as being a strong youth of five feet, ten inches tall, weighing about 160 pounds, blue eyes and brown hair.

After grappling for an hour or more the rescue crews were organized into a straight line and then "swept" the river with their hooks.

Merlino said that he has an aunt, Mrs. Elmer Heston, residing in Croxdon but that he did not know the name of the street.

Merlino said that Barlow is survived by his parents, three brothers and sister, the drowned youth being the oldest.

Barlow was described as being a strong youth of five feet, ten inches tall, weighing about 160 pounds, blue eyes and brown hair.

After grappling for an hour or more the rescue crews were organized into a straight line and then "swept" the river with their hooks.

Merlino said that he has an aunt, Mrs. Elmer Heston, residing in Croxdon but that he did not know the name of the street.

Merlino said that Barlow is survived by his parents, three brothers and sister, the drowned youth being the oldest.

The War at A Glance

Continued From Page One

headquarters today announced continued "round-the-clock" aerial pounding of Pantelleria, Italian island bastion between Tunisia and Sicily.

Northwest African air force bombers blasted the island Saturday night following a day-long aerial and naval bombardment of harbor objectives and medium bombers and fighter-bombers kept up the assault from the air all day yesterday. Eight enemy fighter planes sent up to intercept the attackers were shot down.

General Eisenhower's communiqué also said a coastal command Beaufighter shot down a Junkers 52 transport plane off the coast of Sardinia.

From London came what appears to be an explanation of the recent hull in Allied aerial assaults on Hitler's Europe. The RAF bomber command was believed to have abandoned its "round-the-clock" raids on Europe in favor of fewer but heavier raids, designed to knock out large German industrial centers in single blows.

The only reported week-end RAF activity from England was an attack by British fighter planes on enemy shipping in the Straits of Dover, during which two Axis mine-sweepers were set afire, and assaults by other fighter planes on rail facilities in Northern France.

Fourteen German fighter-bombers staged a hit-run raid on a coastal town in Southeast England yesterday afternoon, causing some damage and casualties.

London dispatches today reported Germany was demanding active support of the Italian Navy in meeting the imminently expected Allied invasion of Southern Europe. British sources predicted that the invasion would be directed by General George C. Marshall, U. S. Army Chief of Staff, with Generals Eisenhower and Sir Harold Alexander as his lieutenants.

On the Russian front, Moscow reported new, destructive raids on airdromes behind the German lines as part of the continued battle for aerial supremacy in anticipation of coming ground offensives. The latest Nazi landing fields to be attacked were not identified in the noon communiqué.

An earlier official announcement said 752 German planes were shot down last week in the furious aerial fighting over several sectors of the long Russian front. Moscow put the total of Nazi planes destroyed in Russia since the beginning of May at 2,821.

Moloney-Brownback Nuptial Celebrated

Continued From Page One

and long sleeves. She wore a veil, white slippers, and carried a white prayer book with a shower of flowers, an orchid topping the prayer book.

The bridesmaid was attired in an aquamarine gown, floor length, wore blue flowers for a head-dress, and silver slippers. She carried a bouquet of mixed flowers tied with a pink bow.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents immediately following the ceremony. The couple will spend a week in New York City, the bride traveling in a checked two-piece suit of silk jersey, white hat and white accessories.

As Pvt. Moloney only has a 15-day furlough, the bride will reside with her parents for the present.

Coming Events

Organizations whose announcements are printed in this column can reciprocate by having all printing in connector with announced events done by the publishers of this paper. Information must be complete when first given as alterations cannot be made after they have once been put into type.

June 26—Garden party, sponsored by St. Martha's Guild of Christ Episcopal Church, at "Wayside," home of Miss Gladys Connelly, Cornwells Heights. 3 p. m.

Four of Five Legion Cadets Given Discharges Are Now in Service

Continued from Page One

tion; Eugene Magill, cpl., soprano bugle section; Russell Ginter, cpl., tenor drum section; Ralph Manera, Benjamin Lesseig, and Henry Elmer, Jr., cpl., snare drum section.

To Mrs. Marvel Durham, president of the Boosters' Association, was a gift given by Mr. Chapin on behalf of the corps. A corps gift of a leather brief case was bestowed upon Mr. Chapin, announcement being by Vincent Cordisco. Gifts were also given to Benjamin F. Lesseig, and Henry Elmer, Sr., by the corps, these two being members of the Cadet committee of Bracken Post.

The opening portion of the program included invocation by the Rev. Arthur F. Gibson, chaplain of Bracken Post; salute to the flag; "Star-Spangled Banner"; orchestra selections. Prominently displayed on the stage were the American, the Cadet Corps, and the service flag. After the program given as the diners were seated at the tables, the Rev. Fr. Glass, of St. Mark's parish pronounced the benediction.

Introductions during the evening included: Mrs. Harry A. Chapin, president of American Legion Auxiliary; Mrs. Marvel Durham, president of the Boosters' Association; Harold James, commander of Bracken Post; Mrs. Harold James; Mrs. Edith Sullivan, commander of Burlington Drum and Bugle Corps (a girls' corps) who accompanied several members to the Saturday evening affair.

The banquet committee was composed of: Harry A. Chapin, chairman; Benjamin F. Lesseig, Henry Elmer, Sr., Jacob C. Schmidt, Jr., Allen Lebo, Frederick Bryner, Vincent Cordisco, Samuel Sottile, Arthur Straffe.

In addressing the gathering Mr. Hetherington reminded that the local corps has a prestige to uphold. "You are the oldest drum and bugle corps in the national organization of the American Legion. This corps will have one of the toughest jobs it has ever faced. Circumstances over which you have no control will take more boys from your corps, and the burdens will be thrown on the younger element. But, facing the issues as you have in the past, you will come through with flying colors."

Continuing the toastmaster stressed the value of high morale, which he defined as being "a state of mind that enables us to maintain courage and endurance in time of stress." He reminded how morale aids in obedience to instruction in things military. Then considering the word "courage" he gave this as "that virtue which commands so much respect from old and young alike." "Courage helps us to meet dangers and difficulties with firmness." The need of courage in everyday life in these present times in particular was stressed. "Many a physical coward has become a moral hero because through morale he was able to conquer fear," he told the boys as he added that "A successful, happy and honorable life depend almost entirely on that word 'courage.'" The speaker urged the girls and boys to stand up for the right in their studies. "It doesn't take courage to be unfair."

It was mentioned by Mr. Hetherington that every branch of the service is represented by former members of the Cadet Corps—marines, navy, army, coast guard, with some being in the paratroops, sub-

Sweet Peppers Have Lots Of Vitamins A and C

Sweet peppers, the large mild flavored kind that turn from green to red as they ripen, are among the richest garden vegetables in vitamins A and C.

They are easily grown in Victory gardens and should be used as much as possible both raw and cooked. They are excellent in bowl salads, and there are many ways to cook them; one of the best being to stuff them with chopped meat or meat substitute.

Early varieties can be grown from seed sown outdoors, after the ground warms up, but it is better to start plants indoors or buy them in the market. The plants are very tender, and should not be set outdoors until it is safe for tomatoes.

Space the plants 18 inches apart in the row and give them frequent cultivation. They like a rich, heavy soil, but thrive in lighter soils if given plenty of water. The pepper is one plant which likes a bath now and then; it can be washed off with the hose and will thrive the better for it.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

They grow rapidly and once they begin to bear they continue to produce fruit until frost kills the plants in the fall. A dozen plants will usually be sufficient for a family of four. They have a long season during which they are in good condition; the color changes from green to red and the vitamin A content increases with this change.

Green Peppers Turn Red as They Ripen.